

Hunters for the Hungry

is a statewide venison donation program that provides a healthy source of protein to Texans in need.

The mission is to alleviate hunger and malnutrition in Texas by distributing donated venison to those in need, provide a meaningful outlet for hunters to help their communities, and promote environmental stewardship through wildlife management.

To be removed from this mailing list, e-mail your name and address to hfhf@taca.org, or call (800) 992-9767, ext. 506.

How does it work?

Hunters bring their tagged, legally harvested deer to a participating meat processor, and pay a nominal fee to cover basic processing costs. The meat processor grinds the venison into burger, packages and stores it for local food assistance providers to pick up.

What does it cost?

The processing fee, generally about $30-$40, helps to cover the costs of the processor's equipment, labor, and overhead. The processing fee may be tax deductible for the hunter; consult a tax advisor for information. The processor provides a receipt for such purpose.

Where does the meat go?

Venison donated to the Hunters for the Hungry program is distributed to families and individuals in need through local food assistance providers such as food banks, food pantries, and soup kitchens. Charitable food assistance agencies in Texas seeking Hunters for the Hungry donations should contact TACAA at (800) 992-9767, ext. 506, to learn more. Individuals in need of food assistance, should phone 211 or visit www.211texas.org for help.

How can I help?

- ◆ Donate a deer.
- ◆ Make a monetary donation.
- ◆ Raise money in your community to offset processing fees.

Call (800) 992-9767, ext. 506 or Visit www.taca.org and click on "Hunters for the Hungry" to access a county map of Texas.
